FEATURE DESCRIPTIONS:

Responsive Website Platform – DealerOn’s Responsive Website Platform (Chameleon) is the most advanced in the industry. Our platform (as Google recommends) is completely responsive which improves SEO, increases conversion, and improves customer experience, relative to the adaptive and multi-url website platforms. Additionally, our responsive websites require less dealer hours to maintain and update, and are “future proof” because, unlike adaptive sites, they automatically adjust and optimize for any new phone, tablet, or wearable device or size, without any technology updates or changes.

Inventory Management – DealerOn’s inventory management system lets you pull, edit, and deliver inventory from any DMS to your website and third party sites. Dealers can add pricing, pictures, and custom comments for every vehicle in inventory, with the ability to make modifications to specific pieces of inventory before being published to the website, and create bulk pricing rules for easier management.

Automated Specials – DealerOn’s specials engine lets dealers set up their own rules-based algorithms to automatically display specials highlighting specific vehicles, models, or classes of vehicles (EG-vehicles more than 30 days old or vehicles under $10,000 or 2013 Jettas). The specials engine is intuitive and easy to use, so dealer personnel are more likely to use the system and maintain engaging, attractive, up-to-date specials.

Free Third Party Integrations – DealerOn’s website platform readily integrates with every lead capturing product available to all segments across the industry. Whether it is Chat, Service Scheduler, Credit App or a Trade Application tool, we can support every industry lead conversion tool.

Advanced SEO Capabilities -- DealerOn’s website platform provides the SEO management tools that digital agencies and in-house SEO specialists crave. Dealers can easily customize SEO across all major platform pages, leveraging a library of replacement codes, so that a few quick SEO edits can update all vehicle details pages with optimized content based on whatever keyword patterns the dealer or their agency selects.

Google Analytics Reporting Suite – DealerOn’s Enterprise-Level Reporting and Analytics Engine, uses the Google Analytics API system as the underlying technology for our reporting platform. This means that our reporting system can generate Enterprise reporting that can incorporate any of the marketing data that Google Analytics provides in their system, providing INCREDIBLE ad hoc reporting capabilities and even Demographic Reporting for our clients.

This offering gives dealers the tools to measure website performance by form factor (Desktop vs. Table vs. Phablet vs. Phone, etc.), demographic data (Age, Sex), or Interests (Affinity, In-Market Segment, etc.).

Video Hero -- DealerOn's Video banner service lets dealers play an OEM or dealership videos in the hero/slideshow of their website.

Behavioral Targeting System -- DealerOn's Behavioral Targeting System (BTS) is a state-of-the-art lead generation enhancement system designed to increase a dealer's website leads and service RO's by delivering contextually relevant offers to consumers as they leave a dealer's website. As an example, consider a consumer visiting a FCA dealership's website, perusing their service department hours' page, looking at their Service Reps experience, and then deciding to leave the dealership website. BTS uses a patent-pending technology to detect the consumer's mouse moving to abandon the website, and dynamically serves up a 10% off Service offer (or whatever service offer the dealer wanted to leverage).

The BTS lead generation system provides dealers with a tool to deliver targeted offers to consumers browsing the new or used vehicle inventory, the service department, or other major parts of the site of the dealer's choosing. The offers can be A/B tested in real-time, so that dealers can improve the performance of the system over time. Currently, BTS increases the typical dealers' website lead performance by 25%-30%.

Edmunds Vehicle Review Integration

DealerOn, through our partnership with Edmunds, can integrate vehicle reviews on the VDP's of all new and used vehicles. DealerOn uses "structured data" to mark up the Vehicle Details page so that the review star ratings can actually appear in Google's Search results.

This has a two-fold benefit for dealers for whom we have built this integration:

1. Greater visibility in Google's search results -- we have seen these pages appear more frequently and higher up in Google's result set in tests where we've implemented the integration.
2. Higher click-thru rates for the page that appear in Google's results.

On sites where we've tested this "double bonus" implementation, we have measured an increase of over 50% more Google organic search traffic entering a dealer's site via the Vehicle Details pages in Google's Search results.

A/B Testing (DealerOn Consulting Included)

DealerOn's Elite website package customers gain access to our A/B testing platform and Optimization Client Services team. Dealers are able to conduct A/B tests of particular changes and appropriately measure/value the results of their testing plan with our Optimization team. They may also opt in to DealerOn platform A/B tests where their site or sites participate in Platform-wide A/B tests & optimizations when multiple dealers request similar tests. This process provides a much faster result with a higher statistically significant confidence level.

Web Presence Optimization & Reporting

DealerOn's exclusive web presence optimization platform is unique within the retail automotive industry. This platform provides SEO tracking, reporting, and analytics that actually tie Keyword Ranking to Traffic and Leads (via our integration with Google Analytics API).

DealerOn's SEO Reporting Suite gives ground-breaking SEO Competitive Intelligence to our customers. FCA dealers would be able to track Keyword Rankings for 5 competitors for each of their rooftops. Each FCA dealer would have real-time tracking for how they rank on the major search engines vs. their competition for up to 50 keyword phrases. These rankings can be tracked for Google or Bing or even Local Google Search Engines (like Minneapolis, MN). This can be a powerful tool for FCA dealers to understand SEO performance for competitive terms.

Geo-Fencing w/ Targeted Offers

Provides specific offers to specific GEO locations. This service gives dealers the power to conquest consumers who are "showrooming" (checking out their website from a competitor's lot) by pushing targeted offers to website visitors, based on their actual location. Dealers can create any number and variety of offers that will fire only to visitors located within the dealer defined parameters (LAT/LON, plus a radius (500 feet, one mile, etc.) targeting that offer.

Gated Inventory Pricing

For dealers who are interested in testing aggressive lead-generation systems, DealerOn offers the option for dealers in this package to enable our "Gated Inventory" functionality. DealerOn's Gated Inventory system lets dealers require an email address in order to unlock vehicle pricing, which dramatically increases the number of marketable email addresses for a dealer to work.

Structured Data: Schema (Product / Offer)

In order to help maximize our dealers' organic search traffic and Google visibility, DealerOn frequently updates our VDP's and SRP's to incorporate the most current and comprehensive structured data markup for each dealer's inventory. Google has provided and updates the specifications for optimal page markup via the schema.org standard, which Google references and elaborates on here:

<https://developers.google.com/search/docs/datatypes/product>. Basically, Google provides webmasters with their requirements for how to represent vital product information like Price, Ratings, # of vehicles, MPG, etc. in the code on each page. Google, in turn, will frequently display this information in their Search Results (showing star ratings, price ranges, etc.). DealerOn has measured an increase from 25-50% in organic search traffic going directly to inventory listing pages with our implementation.

Personalized Offer

This customizable coupon offers personalized prices to customers based on their individual preferences. By filling out a form on a vehicle page, visitors will be offered a price that beats the MSRP. Designed to lead site visitors further along the buying process, a Personalized Offer can be customized to convert multiple kinds of buyers with a price option that you adapt to them. Making your price option personal gives buyers yet another reason to pick your dealership. Adapt to their needs, and let your personalized offer stand out against the crowd. We have dealerships that currently use this functionality that have increased their vehicle leads by 50-75 per month.
